President's Message

Friends,
The museum has remained closed and T.H.M.A. remains in limbo, meeting by 'Go to Meeting' or carrying on business by e-mail.

Our two fall general meeting programs in September and October have been cancelled and rescheduled for April and May 2021.

Our November Holiday Dinner for members has also been cancelled.

A.C.N.B. has notified us that New Windsor State Bank A Division of ACNB Bank cannot host our Holiday of Trees, Wreaths and Centerpieces due to social distancing and the forecast of another round of COVID-19 along with the usual Flu influx.

As I said in the last issue – 'Please stay safe and be smart – we WILL get through this TOGETHER.'

Round
For George

HAPPENING is 'One More Round For George' – our 8th Annual golf tournament, Friday, September 18, 2020, at Quail Valley Golf Course, Littlestown!

It will be played under the Pennsylvania COVID-19 Guidelines. We have 88 players currently signed up to play and we continue to accept single or team golfers for the 7-7:30 registration prior to the 8 a.m. 'Shot gun Start'.

Play is in the 'Captain's Choice Scramble' style competition. Raffles, and special games are available on designated holes. Two beverage/snack carts will make their way around the course. A box lunch will conclude the competition with the awards and prize ceremony following.

Sponsorship packages and 'hole sponsorships' are available and provided by community and county businesses and friends.

Looking Back

Excerpt from The History Museum 2010 Exhibit

What's Cookin' in the 1920's

We took a look into the simple life of Taneytown in the 1920's.... Home was a very special place, filled with people, smells, and sounds that were familiar and comfortable. There were no televisions, no computers, and very little money for anything frivolous. People created their own fun...singing, reading, playing games, and exploring the fields and farms. Life was not boring, as farm life was very busy. Life was predictable, if not exciting. The kitchen was the center of activity in the home. Warmed by the stove, it was also the laundry room, cooking and baking center, as well as the best place to read and listen to stories.

Family life on a farm was very different from life in town in the 1920s. There was no electricity or indoor plumbing. Farming was hard work, with long days and little money. Work and play revolved around the seasons. Every member of the family had chores — milking cows, harnessing horses, gathering eggs, cleaning the outhouse, cooking and baking, washing clothes, and more. Children usually walked to school, rain or shine, and spent summers helping in the fields. Farm families looked forward to trips to town, church gatherings, visiting, and other social events. With help from neighbors, 1920s farm families brought in the harvest, battled fires, and coped with accidents and illness.
